Heat and Control Business Profile

Since 1950 Heat and Control has been in the business of advancing the food production industry. Priding ourselves on building strong, long-term relationships with customers who rely on us to creatively help solve problems, lower costs, increase productivity, and improve quality for the life of their machinery.

Our brand family consisting of FastBack®, Spray Dynamics® and Mastermatic®; along with technology partner brands of Ishida®, CEIA® and Key Technology come together to deliver the most efficient and effective solutions for a wide variety of production requirements.

We engineer and manufacture modern industrial processing, coating, seasoning, conveying, inspection, weighing and packaging. Our solutions set the standard for yield, efficiency, and safety across a wide range of food, pharmaceutical, and other industries including snack food such as potato chips, namkeen, nuts and corn products, French fry and potato products, meat, poultry, seafood and prepared foods. Whatever your production needs, we can meet them with precision and passion. Each piece of machinery or end-to-end system is designed with expertise, experience, and excellence.

With a focus on flavour and consistency we've developed innovative cooking and value-added processing technology for everything from raw food preparation to ancillary support systems. To make your food taste great, we can provide an individual solution or an entire integrated production line for ultimate efficiency and performance.

Our conveying and product handling solutions feature the world-renowned FastBack® horizontal motion conveyor, with smart design and line management to achieve accurate feed, accumulation, proportional feed, and distribution flow. We also offer other conveyors, elevators, and feeding systems.

A partnership with Ishida, a leading producer of weighing, packaging and inspection systems for food, pharmaceutical, and industrial products, enables a full range of integrated weigher-bagmaker systems, product infeed equipment, finished package handling machines, checkweighers and X-ray machines. Metal detectors, and vision inspection systems from partners and leading manufacturers CEIA and Key Technology improve inspection processes for food, pharmaceuticals, and non-food products.

Indo-Australian Chamber of Commerce

Mr. Gaven Standon

President 2022-2024, Indo-Australian Chamber of Commerce and Executive - Partner Ecosystem, Telstra

Dear Members and potential business partners,

India and Australia share a long-standing history of friendship and cooperation, rooted in shared values of democracy, strong business ties, mutual trade investments and cultural affinity. It is imperative that we capitalize on this strong foundation to further deepen our economic engagement for the mutual benefit of both countries. In recent times, we have witnessed significant progress in our trade relations, with bilateral trade volumes reaching impressive heights. However, there remains immense untapped potential that we must explore and leverage. India's rapidly growing economy, burgeoning middle class, and ambitious development agenda present a plethora of opportunities for Australian businesses across various sectors.

As we navigate through the complexities of the global economy, it is essential for us to adapt and innovate. Embracing digital technologies, fostering innovation, and promoting sustainable practices will be key drivers of our future success. Collaboration in areas such as renewable energy, agriculture, education, healthcare, and technology holds immense potential that create win-win situations for both sides.

Our strategic partnership extends beyond trade and commerce to encompass security, defense, and geopolitical cooperation. By working closely together on regional and global issues, we can contribute to peace, stability, and prosperity in the Indo-Pacific region and beyond.

As members of the business community, we have a crucial role to play in shaping the future of India-Australia relations. I urge each one of you to actively participate in initiatives aimed at strengthening ties between our countries, whether through trade delegations, business forums, or cultural exchanges. Let us seize the opportunities before us and build a brighter future together.

In conclusion, I am confident that with our collective efforts and determination, we can take India-Australia trade and business relations to new heights. Together, let us embark on this exciting journey of growth, prosperity, and friendship.

Thank you for your continued support and dedication. As the President of IACC – Indo Australian Chambers of Commerce, I am deeply committed to fostering stronger ties between our nations and maximizing the opportunities for growth and collaboration across our businesses.

Warm regards,
Gaven Standon

Indo-Australian Chamber of Commerce

Ms. Petula Thomas
CEO, Indo-Australian Chamber of Commerce

2023-24 was another successful year for the Chamber, marked by significant advancements in key India-Australia initiatives and strong YoY financial performance.

In August 2024, I had the privilege of leading the Chamber's 21st trade mission to Australia, along with Ambassador Anil Wadhwa. Delegates comprised of CEO/MD/Director-level executives, representing various sectors. Thanks to the support of our partners for this initiative and the Indian and Australian Governments, our 20 delegates participated in 14 events and engagements (including IABCA's immersion week) across Brisbane, Sydney and Canberra. They gained valuable insights into the Australian market and culture, explored new opportunities, engaged in 1-1 meetings with Australian companies and built over 200 new connections through curated roundtables and networking events.

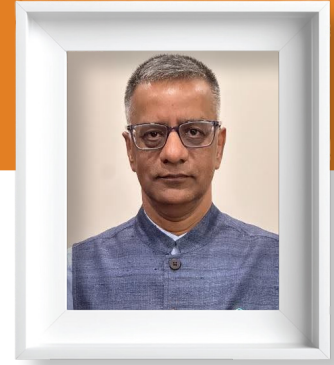

India-Australia bilateral trade in goods and services has crossed USD 48 billion, driven by the Economic Cooperation and Trade Agreement (ECTA). Australia's stock of investment in India was $17.6 billion in 2022 and India's total investment in Australia was $34.5 billion. The Chamber and many of our members have shared insights during the consultations on the new roadmap for Australia's Economic Engagement with India and we look forward to supporting its launch and implementation.

Looking back to the previous financial year 2023-24, we organised nineteen Chamber-led events and participated in nine partner events. Additionally, we launched our Business Advisory and Financial Services Industry sector leadership forums. We are delighted to extend our pan-India offerings to members for the cost of a single membership, providing business engagement and networking opportunities across five Chapters and eight active industry sector leadership forums. Membership revenue increased by 64% compared to the previous fiscal year (2022-2023). We welcomed 82 new members in 2023-2024. The IACC CEO and the membership team conducted approximately 180 virtual meetings with members and prospective members throughout the year.

We appreciate business leaders/members who voluntarily serve as President, Vice-Presidents/Chapter Chairpersons, Leadership Forum Co-Chairs, and members of our Board, Representative Council, and Committees. We are grateful for the support that we receive from the Australian and Indian Governments, partners, sponsors, Corporate Patron/Lifetime member and well-wishers. Finally, our diligent Secretariat team does a fantastic job for the Chamber and its members every year.

On behalf of the Chamber, I would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to all who have contributed to this Business Directory 2024, by their insightful messages and articles or by supporting us with an advertisement.

Sincerely,
Petula Thomas

Shri Gopal Baglay
High Commissioner of India to Australia

MESSAGE

I am happy to note that the Indo-Australian Chamber of Commerce (IACC) is bringing out its Business Directory for 2024.

India-Australia Comprehensive Strategic Partnership, since its inception in June 2020, has grown from strength to strength as our engagement both in strategic and economic spheres has further deepened and diversified in the last few years.

Prime Ministers and several key Ministers of India and Australia exchanged in recent time successful bilateral visits, and enhanced outreach to businesses of both countries. Bilateral trade has been greatly facilitated by the entry into force on 29 December 2022 of the India-Australia Economic Cooperation and Trade Agreement (ECTA). Negotiations are ongoing for an even more ambitious India-Australia Comprehensive Economic Cooperation Agreement (CECA).

Looking to future energy and environment security, the two countries are working together on low-emission technologies, clean energy, including green hydrogen, ultra-low cost solar and securing critical minerals supply chains.

Clearly, the momentum is high and unprecedented and the business environment is conducive. Shared interests make compelling case for the India-Australia economic partnership to soar higher.

I compliment IACC for its active and sustained role in promoting B2B ties between the two countries and wish them success for this publication and their future endeavours to promote even closer economic ties between India and Australia.

Gopal Baglay

Hon. Philip Green
Australian High Commissioner to India

The growth we have seen in the India-Australia bilateral relationship since the Indo-Australian Chamber of Commerce (IACC) last released this Directory in 2019 is phenomenal. In that time, India and Australia have signed an Economic Cooperation and Trade Agreement (ECTA), over twenty Australian ministers have visited India, and more than fifteen Indian ministers have visited Australia. This level of engagement speaks to the priority we place on this relationship, and our vision to strengthen those ties even further.

Economic complementarity has been at the heart of the Australia-India partnership. This congruence between our economies is driving growth across a range of sectors. Education has been a particular highlight, with Deakin and Wollongong Universities opening the first foreign branch campuses in India earlier this year. These campuses will help provide India's young workforce with the skills required for this fast-growing economy. ECTA is also now helping businesses take further advantage of this complementarity, with India's agricultural exports to Australia increasing by fifteen per cent in its first year of operation.

We want to strengthen these links further, and make Australian critical minerals, agri-tech, and other Australian exports a fundamental part of India's growth story. That's why we are working hard with India to deliver a Comprehensive Economic Cooperation Agreement.

Key to strengthening these links will be the human bridge between India and Australia. You, the IACC's members, form a vital part of this bridge. Your labour, skill, and capital are what drives trade and investment between our countries.

I commend the IACC for the first-class job it has done in promoting business engagement between India and Australia. I trust this Directory will support businesses looking to access our respective markets, and I look forward to meeting many more IACC members during my tenure as High Commissioner.

Ms. Catherine Gallagher
Former Head of Austrade, South Asia

Greetings from the Australian Trade & Investment Commission (Austrade) – the Australian Government’s agency for trade promotion and investment attraction.

I would like to compliment the Indo-Australian Chamber of Commerce for your role in providing support for the development of bilateral trade & business relationships between Australia and India. It’s an exciting time for the broader Australia-India relationship. The relationship between our countries is at a historic high point. This is an era defined by reduced barriers to trade and improved market access achieved through the Australia-India Economic Cooperation and Trade Agreement (or ECTA). Overall, more than 85 per cent of Australian goods exports by value to India are now tariff free, and 96 per cent of imports from India to Australia are tariff free, rising to 100 per cent by 1 January 2026.

Our economies are more complementary than ever before. The opportunities are limitless and there is continued strong interest from Australian business in the Indian market, driven by its strong growth fundamentals, strong diaspora ties and the underlying complementarity between Australia’s sectoral offerings and India’s demand profile. Austrade is focused on supporting Australian exporters to access the growing opportunities in the Indian market, including those created through ECTA.

I would like to acknowledge the efforts of the Indo-Australian Chamber of Commerce in nurturing the economic and commercial links between Australia and India. It is in Australia and India’s interest that there is a strong bilateral chamber of commerce and that all contributors to the bilateral relationship work closely to remove barriers and support high growth potential and investment and trade opportunities that provide Australia and India with a strong commercial or security interest. Its members include the wide array of Australian expertise available in India across a broad range of sectors that includes technologies, services and solutions – all of which contribute greatly to India’s economic growth.

Austrade values the Indo-Australian Chamber of Commerce and it is encouraging that it has grown to be a national body which can bring in senior business representation and bring a representative business voice to issues and opportunities.

My best wishes to the Indo-Australian Chamber of Commerce for your efforts in the development & growth of bilateral trade & business relationships between Australia and India.

Catherine Gallagher

Tim Thomas
CEO, Centre for Australia-India Relations

We are at a pivotal moment in the Australia-India relationship. The future of the relationship is bright, but it will require effort, patience, and a willingness to understand the significant opportunities before us and how to grasp them.

The Centre for Australia-India Relations is a major investment by the Australian government in furthering our bilateral ties and elevating our engagement with India, by fostering and facilitating greater collaboration and engagement across the breadth of the relationship.

Since being appointed as the inaugural CEO of the Centre in May 2023, I have travelled across Australia and to India meeting with key stakeholders across business, government, educational and cultural institutions, and Indian Australian communities to discuss opportunities in the relationship and how the Centre can create the greatest impact.

The level of interest and engagement from stakeholders has been exceptionally positive. There is clear ambition to transform the trade and investment relationship in a way that builds resilience and harnesses the energy and know-how of Indian Australian communities.

Building business capability, demystifying the Indian market, and strengthening cultural competence are core elements of the Centre's work. The Centre will help all Australians understand what contemporary India is and lift our conversation from "why India" to "how to engage India". We play an important role in sharing, advocating, and translating that vision within the Australian business community.

The Indo-Australian Chamber of Commerce (IACC) with its impressive membership is a vital part of the bilateral economic ecosystem and the IACC Business Directory is an important platform to support commercial connections. I look forward to ongoing engagement with the IACC and its members as we work towards the shared goal of a strong and dynamic economic partnership between our countries.

MESSAGE

At Invest India, we are committed to nurturing international investment ties, and I am thrilled to emphasize the promising collaboration between India and Australia. This partnership is grounded in shared economic objectives and complementary strengths, offering substantial opportunities for mutual growth and prosperity.

India's thriving market, burgeoning technological space, and ambitious economic reforms perfectly complement Australia's advanced technology and expertise in various sectors. By nurturing robust investment relations, we not only drive economic growth but also facilitate innovation, R&D, job creation, and sustainable development.

The robust and advantageous partnership between the Indo-Australian Chamber of Commerce (IACC) and Invest India has been instrumental in nurturing bilateral trade and investment between our two nations. It is essential for us to recognize and harness its full potential. I believe that the IACC Business Directory will play a pivotal role in strengthening our business community, facilitating partnerships, and driving economic prosperity for both nations.

By leveraging the strengths and resources of both India and Australia, through collaboration, dedication and strategic planning, we have the power to foster a thriving investment environment that benefits both nations' economies and societies, paving the way for lasting success.

About the Chamber

The Indo-Australian Chamber of Commerce (IACC), established in 1989, is the only bilateral Chamber of Commerce in India that promotes trade and investment between India and Australia. The Chamber was established on a vision of two former Prime Ministers – Mr. Bob Hawke, Prime Minister of Australia and Mr. Rajiv Gandhi, Prime Minister of India. It was formally inaugurated on 22nd June 1989 by His Excellency Graham Feakes A.O., the then High Commissioner of Australia in India.

The Australian High Commissioner to India is the Patron of the Chamber. Representatives from the Australian High Commission, New Delhi and the Australian Consul-Generals in Chennai, Mumbai, Bengaluru and Kolkata are special invitees to the Chapter Committees in their region. Australian State Government representatives and Austrade are also part of the Representative Council / Chapter Committees.

Some of the Board/Representative Council members/special invitees include Telstra, TCS, Infosys, Austrade, Trade & Investment Queensland, Investment NSW, Global Victoria, Adani Group, KPMG India, MD Mineral Technologies, Heat & Control (South Asia), ANZ, Anko India, Tractors and Farm Equipment Limited, Australia India Youth Dialogue, PwC and AZB & Partners.

Chapters

The Chamber is headquartered in Chennai, with Chapters in Western India, Southern India (all states with the exception of Karnataka), Bengaluru, East India and Northern India.

Industry Sector Leadership Forums

15 sectors were chosen based on the key sectors identified from the updated India Economic Strategy and the Australia Economic Strategy reports. The forums comprise of members from both countries and Co-Chairs from India and Australia. The forums provide a platform for members to have access to sector-specific information, focused networking and interaction with Industry-experts, a channel to facilitate business partnerships/outcomes and a platform for advocacy. Till date the following forums have been launched.

- Resource & METS
- Science & Innovation
- Education & Research
- F&B and Agribusiness
- Health
- Business Advisory Services

The Evolving India- Australia Bilateral Relationship

by Ambassador Anil Wadhwa

The India Australia comprehensive strategic partnership has indeed grown by leaps and bounds and holds significant importance in the changing geopolitical landscape for stability and prosperity in the Indo Pacific region and beyond. India and Australia are focused on quick progress in economic collaboration, defense and security, education and research, technology and innovation and people to people ties. Our partnership in critical minerals, the migration and mobility partnership agreement, the formation of hydrogen and solar task forces and the Australia India education qualification recognition mechanism are all significant developments. These breakthroughs will propel greater talent exchange and flow of ideas and innovation between our people. The Indian community in Australia continues to grow in terms of importance, with a population of 976,000 (Census 2021).

The India Australia ECTA has lived up to its promise in the initial year of its implementation. Bilateral trade between India and Australia increased from US$22.2 billion in 2021 to US$31.4 billion in 2022, registering a growth of 41%. Australia's stock of investment in India was $17.6 billion and India's total investment in Australia was $34.5 billion at the end of 2022. I have always advocated that our bilateral economic relationship will be based on investments driving trade. Both sides are striving to cross the finishing line of the fully ledged CECA which will foster greater investment and larger services trade between us.

Participating in resilient and reliable supply chains has emerged as a key desirable goal of countries like India and Australia who want to promote the rule of law. Our trilateral cooperation with Japan on the resilient supply chains initiative needs a visible success area. I for one would pick digital trade combined with critical minerals which would facilitate seamless trade and bring down costs in a key area of concern for the three partners.

The Australia Economic Strategy Report which I worked upon with CII and KPMG teams has identified collaboration in defense research and development and manufacturing as a focus area. Advanced sensors, underwater technologies, quantum computing and cryptography, laser and hypersonic technologies and collaboration between Indian shipyards and Australian shipbuilding industries should be focused upon by the joint working group on defense research and material cooperation which has already been set up.

The Australian space agency and the Indian space research organization have recognized each other's capabilities in the areas of remote sensing of the earth, satellite communication, satellite-based position, navigation and timing, and ground stations to support space activities. With the opening up of the space sector to private players, low orbit satellites and spacecraft and systems engineering needs a focus between Indian and Australian companies.

The agreements we have reached in maritime collaboration, defense science exchanges, mutual logistics support, cooperation in cyber enabled critical technology, critical and strategic minerals all need more evident and visible results as well as commercial successes.

The Quad has also launched the Quad principles on technology design, development, governance and use of which reaffirmed the importance of industry – led, consensus based multi stakeholder approaches to international standards that foster interoperability, compatibility and inclusiveness. For this it is important to facilitate investments and collaborative research, especially in areas like green hydrogen and green ports. I would like to see India and Australia take the lead on some success stories in these areas. The Indo – Australian Chamber of Commerce has a crucial role to play in this endeavour.

*Ambassador Anil Wadhwa has served as Secretary (East) in the Indian Ministry of External Affairs and as the Indian Ambassador to Italy, Oman, Thailand and Poland. He is the Author of the CII Australia Economic Strategy Report, released in November 2020 by Commerce and Industry Minister Piyush Goyal. Ambassador Wadhwa is currently a Distinguished Fellow with the New Delhi based Vivekananda International Foundation, and serves on several corporate Boards. He also heads the Northern India chapter of the Indo – Australian Chamber of Commerce.

Do something

The next step is up to you

Peter Pryn FCA Adviser Hall Chadwick Melbourne Chartered Accountants

Congratulations on your interest in India, or Australia, as the case may be.

You have made a great start in contacting the Indo_Australian Chamber of Commerce. The chamber has been actively supporting, assisting and encouraging cross border business between our two great countries for over 34 years. I take this opportunity to congratulate the Chamber on its excellent work and business facilitation in this time. Now is the time for YOU to make the next step and lead your business into the emerging Indo-Australia trade boom.

Why India?

Unlike many other countries, India has maintained a constant GDP growth of between 5% & 8% pa for the last twenty years. India has the second largest population in the world, second only to China, and will no doubt overtake China in the short term- if it hasn't already. Under Prime minister Modi, India has leapfrogged into the 21st century, with a stable government and significant economic reforms. With a population in excess of 1.4 billion, India is an untapped market with a burgeoning middle class awaiting your products and services.

Why Australia?

Australia, by world standards has a relatively small population of circa 27 million, yet despite its small population, its economy has always had between the 12th +15th largest economies in the world.

Australia's two largest Cities, Melbourne + Sydney, if in America, would be in their 3 largest cities. Melbourne + Sydney's populations are both in excess of 5 million.

The Indian diaspora in Australia, the largest growing diaspora here since 2012. So the market in Australia, is India friendly, is well to do, and is largely concentrated in two cities making it an ideal starting point for your International expansion.

What next?

If you are in India contact the Chamber, to discuss your business and they will be more than willing to assist you with key contacts for you to commence your Australian market entry in Australia, there are several local chambers you could contact for assistance – or if you wish feel free to contact my office, and we can assist you with contacts, and or introductions to one of the local chambers. Both governments have representative offices in the other country and from experience I can advise they too are eager to assist.

I cannot stress strongly enough the need to have a local on the ground to assist you in your initial meetings, whilst we may speak the same language, both countries have their own customs, traditions and different interpretations. Do your research plan your itinerary, Book your travel and set up as many meetings as you can. If you don't your opposition will. Peter Pryn FCA is a chartered accountant with Hall Chadwick Melbourne, has been a long standing member of the Chamber, and has travelled to India on many occasions, he can be contacted at ppryn@hallchadwickmelb.com.au

Doing Business in India

Indian Industry

India has been one of the fastest growing major economies over the past two decades. In the recent years the Government has looked at maintaining economic stability by improving the quality of fiscal expenditure with fewer subsidies and more investments. Gross domestic product has been resilient and is expected to stay that way for the next few years. India's largest industries are pharmaceuticals, IT & IT services, automobiles, chemicals and engineering. Growing sectors include computer hardware & software, telecommunications, construction and power. To enhance and support growth in the Indian manufacturing sector, the government is putting in place Production Linked Incentive (PLI) schemes in specific sectors as a direct financial incentive.

The government's long-term ambition is to fuel growth in the manufacturing sector. Alongside this, development of a robust infrastructure, logistics and utility environment to support manufacturing is the primary focus. With this in mind, the government has announced infrastructure investments to expand the country's network of surface transportation with investments of USD 1.6 trillion over 2020 to 2025. Some of the fastest growing industries include advanced engineering, manufacturing digital innovation and renewable energy.

India Australia Economic and Cooperation Trade Agreement

The Ind-Aus ECTA provides an institutional mechanism to encourage and improve trade between the two countries. It covers almost all the tariff lines dealt by India and Australia. India will benefit from preferential market access provided by Australia on 100% of its tariff lines, including all the labour-intensive sectors of export interest to India, such as Gems and Jewellery, Textiles, leather, footwear, furniture, food, and agricultural products, engineering products, medical devices and Automobiles. On the other hand, India will be offering preferential access to Australia on over 70% of its tariff lines, including lines of export interest to Australia, which are primarily raw materials and intermediaries such as coal, mineral ores and wines. The agreement is also likely to increase investment opportunities, promote exports, create significant additional employment and facilitate strong bonding between the two countries.

India Australia Bilateral Trades

India's trade with Australia has increased over the last few years, with exports reaching US$ 7.94 billion and imports reaching US$ 16.15 billion in FY 2023-24, and the trade balance, with a total of 24 billion, which is almost doubling from 2020.

India's main exports to Australia are refined petroleum, medicaments (incl. veterinary), pearls & gems, jewellery, made-up textile articles, while India's major imports are coal, confidential items of trade, copper ores & concentrates, natural gas, non-ferrous waste & scrap, ferrous waste & scrap and education related services.

FDI Equity Investment in India

India received $14.48 billion in FDI (equity inflows) from Australia between April 2000 to March 2024. Over the last few years, key sectors such as infrastructure have attracted the highest investment from Australian investors.

Sectors Attracting Highest FDI Equity Inflow

- Services Sector
- Computer Software & Hardware
- Trading
- Telecommunications
- Automobile Industry
- Construction (Infrastructure) Activities
- Construction Development
- Drugs & Pharmaceuticals
- Chemicals (Other Than Fertilizer)
- Power

Regional dispersal of industrial activity

Industrial activity in India has traditionally centred around the places having access to raw material and transport infrastructure, particularly port facilities. Traditional industries such as textiles, engineering and chemicals thus grew in the western states of Gujarat and Maharashtra, Tamil Nadu in the south and some pockets in Bihar and Madhya Pradesh rich in mineral wealth and natural deposits. Over the years, manufacturing activity has dispersed, with new generation industries such as automobiles, electronics and IT coming up all across India, but more so around Bengaluru (Karnataka), Chennai (Tamil Nadu), Pune (Maharashtra) and Gurgaon (Haryana).

Entry Strategy

Foreign investment in India can be carried out through either incorporated or unincorporated methods, depending on the sector chosen by the foreign company. It is crucial to align the chosen approach with the business objectives to ensure legal, financial, and regulatory compliance. Each mode of entry should be carefully evaluated based on factors such as legal standing, approval processes, allowed operations, repatriation of funds, and exit strategies.

1. Limited Liability Partnership (LLP)

An LLP provides a hybrid mode of investment i.e., it is a corporate business entity between partners with limited liability. LLP allows the members the flexibility of organising their internal structure as a partnership based on mutually agreed terms. Like a private limited company, LLP is a body corporate having a distinct legal entity. The LLPs are governed by Limited Liability Partnership Act 2008. FDI in LLPs is allowed only in sectors where 100% FDI is permitted.

2. Wholly Owned Subsidiary (WOS)

A Wholly Owned Subsidiary (WOS) is where the entire share capital is held by a Parent Company. However, per legal procedures you need at least 2 shareholders to set-up a WOS, even if the second holds negligible value.

A Private Limited Company (Pvt Ltd) has the benefits of lesser compliances as compared to a Public Limited Company. At the same time, this structure provides a foreign investor with the highest degree of control and supervision of the Indian operations. A WOS of a foreign company, incorporated as Pvt Ltd. is treated at par with a domestic company or LLP and all regulations and benefits as be applicable to an Indian entity would equally apply to a WOS.

The set-up can be under the automatic route, except where prior approval is required on account of sectoral caps or specific restrictions.

3. Joint Venture (JV)

JV is a preferred form of entry by foreign investors who are interested in having access to know-how or distribution channels, shared financial resources and business contacts of an Indian partner. While evaluating a JV some key issues need to be assessed:

- Terms of Collaboration
- Shareholding pattern
- Management and Board composition
- Transfer and change of control
- Terms of Termination
- Technical know how
- IP creation and ownership

There are no separate laws for JV in India and laws governing domestic companies & LLP's equally apply to JVs. Typically, as in any other country, a JV is where two parties (individual or companies) join to incorporate a company in India. The management and running of the JV is influenced by the terms decided in the shareholders agreement.

4. Temporary Structures

In case an investor is looking at testing the Indian market or carrying out a one-off project, other temporary and flexible entry options are to set up a Liaison, Project or Branch Office. All these are regarded as an extension of the foreign company in India.

a. Liaison Office (LO)

It is a place of business acting as a channel of communication with the Head Office (HO). Do note that an LO is strictly not allowed to undertake any commercial/trading/industrial activity, directly or indirectly, and must maintain itself out of inward remittances received from HO. For establishment of a liaison office a profit-making track record during the immediately preceding three financial years in the home country and net worth of not less than USD 50,000 is usually required.

b. Project Office (PO)

A PO is a place of business in India to represent the interests of the foreign company executing a project in India but excludes a Liaison Office. A foreign company may open project office/s in India provided it has secured from an Indian company, a contract to execute a project in India and:

- The project is funded directly by inward remittance from abroad; or
- The project is funded by a bilateral or multilateral International Financing Agency; or
- The project has been cleared by an appropriate authority; or
- A company or entity in India awarding the contract has been granted a term loan by a Public Financial Institution or a bank in India for the project

c. Branch Office (BO)

A foreign company can establish a BO provided it has a profit-making track record during the immediately preceding five financial years in the home country and a net worth of at least USD 100,000. A foreign company may consider establishing a branch to carry out trading, business dealing, etc. on behalf of the head office.

Recent Reforms

In the year 2023, India placed great emphasis on attracting foreign investors by implementing key reforms. These reforms included making regulatory processes more efficient to facilitate business operations, relaxing foreign direct investment (FDI) regulations in sectors like defense and telecom and introducing changes to labour laws to simplify compliance. The Production-Linked Incentive (PLI) scheme was expanded to help stimulate manufacturing across various industries. Furthermore, substantial investments were made in infrastructure as part of the PM Gati Shakti plan a $1.2 trillion USD national master plan for multi modal connectivity aimed at reducing logistics costs and bottlenecks. In addition to these efforts, ongoing digitalization initiatives and support for the startup ecosystem have created new avenues for technological advancements and innovation, positioning India as an appealing destination for global investment.

Why Australia

Australia – a growing economy

Australia's economy is strong and resilient. On current forecasts, Australia's economy will have grown by 11.1% from 2019 to 2024. This is much stronger than the average of 7.8% for advanced economies, cementing Australia's place as the world's 13th-largest economy.

Consistent growth makes Australia a preferred destination for global investors and a reliable springboard for expansion into the Asia-Pacific region. Today, Australia's economic foundations are solid: a trusted financial system, open trade, strong governance, and a highly skilled population.

Our finance system is advanced, efficient and particularly large with Australia's financial institutions managing US$8 trillion in assets. The Australian dollar is the 6th-most traded currency worldwide thanks partly to our role as a major exporter of energy and resources.

Australia's prosperity is anchored in a trustworthy legal system. Australian law safeguards intellectual property rights, spurring creativity in our tech industries. Our taxation levels are 5 percentage points below the average for wealthy countries, which aids investment. And adaptive regulation creates a business-friendly environment that rewards innovation.

Australia's policies and institutions are geared towards ongoing growth so Australia can outperform its peers. The Australian Government's ambitions to build a Future Made in Australia over the decades ahead includes incentives to attract private sector investment. It also maximises the economic and industrial benefits of the global move to net zero. Reforms include improvements to investment settings, institutions, and regulatory processes to attract and enable the investment that Australia needs.

Strong growth has solidified Australia's position as the world's 13th-largest economy with nominal gross domestic product (GDP) reaching A$2.6 trillion (US$1.7 trillion) in 2023. Australia was home to just 0.3% of the world's population but accounted for 1.7% of the global economy. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) predicts that Australia's economic growth will continue to outperform advanced economies over the next five years.

Australia is a low-tax country

Australia has one of the lowest overall tax rates of any high-income country. Our tax revenue is equal to just 29% of GDP, which is 5 percentage points lower than the 34% average for OECD countries.¹ Australian taxes on goods and services are equivalent to 7% of Australia's GDP, compared to 11% across OECD countries. Australia's corporate tax rate is typically lower due to various deductions, credits and incentives. For instance, R&D tax incentives significantly reduce rates for innovative companies (a small company that invests $100,000 in R&D may be eligible to receive a cash refund of over $40,000). Australia's corporate tax laws are stable and predictable, helping to reduce costs, like our tax agreements with other countries that prevent tax duplication.

Good governance, strong institutions and the rule of law

Australia has a global reputation for good government. We are recognised as one of the least corrupt nations, and Australia's legal system is well grounded, professional and transparent. Australia is a global leader in protecting property rights, including intellectual property, and our sound governance sustains investor confidence. Today, Australia provides a stable base for multinationals who want to secure their supply chains, broaden their commercial horizons, or establish new operations in the Asia-Pacific region.

#1 Legal system

Australia has a transparent and fair legal system.¹

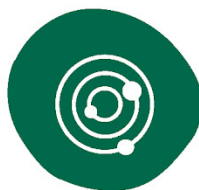

#1 Quality of bureaucracy

Australian public servants have the highest level of specialisation and technical qualification.¹

#1 Lowest risk of social unrest

Globally, Australia has the lowest risk of social unrest.¹

#2 External intervention

Australia's government is free from the influence and impact of external actors.²

#2 Regulatory quality

Australia's government has a strong ability to formulate and implement sound policies and regulations.³

#7 Factionalised elites

Australia's institutions are less likely to be fragmented by the brinkmanship and gridlock of ruling elites.²

Australia: Open and business-friendly

Australia is a welcoming place for foreign investors and startup ventures, and we lead the world in credit ratings. We rank 6th for low tariff barriers, which reflects Australia's commitment to open trade. Other high performing areas include Australia's macroeconomic environment and contract enforcement, which are global standouts. Global rankings also recognise our relative strength as a place to launch a new business and as an environment for private enterprise.

A strong and dynamic financial system

Australia's financial system combines innovation and rock-solid foundations. Our financial institutions currently manage around US$8 trillion in assets and the Australian dollar is the 6th-most traded currency in the world. Our impressive repayments culture boasts a 99.3% on-time loan repayment rate, which outperforms the average of 94.8% amongst major advanced economies.

Australia's cashless society

We are leaders in creating a cashless society, with 94% of transactions now taking place digitally. This puts Australia in 2nd place in digital-payment rankings, reflecting consumer trust in our financial security and system. Australia's cashless society promotes easier, faster and safer transactions in a market economy that embraces traceability and transparency.

A partner of choice in a net zero world

Given our critical and abundant natural endowments, Australia is well positioned to strengthen priority supply chains and become an indispensable part of the net zero global economy.

Our natural resources will help drive the global net zero transformation. This is complemented by the reputation we have established as a safe and profitable destination for investment. As a result, Australia is the 5th-most attractive destination in the world for investment in renewable energy.

Australia offers significant economic opportunities to help reduce global emissions with our vast renewable energy potential and our plentiful mineral resources. These include renewable hydrogen, green metals and critical minerals processing, along with manufacturing for a net zero transition.

Top Performers: from academia to quantum and beyond

Australia is a highly-skilled nation. Our technical colleges develop the skills needed by local industry, including agriculture and mining. Meanwhile, our universities create a highly capable professional workforce and entrepreneurs that power innovation in everything from medical technology to renewable energy.

Australia is the 7th-largest spender on education in the world. This investment helps to generate the skills we need for our dynamic and advanced economy. Expenditure on formal education in Australia is equivalent to 6.2% of our GDP. As a result, Australia's workforce is highly qualified as almost half of our workers hold a tertiary qualification. Our workforce is also adaptive to change with Australia ranked 1st in the world for our skills in using, adapting and adopting emerging technologies.

Australia has long supported businesses with favourable tax incentives, like R&D tax incentives and Venture Capital Limited Partnerships. These efforts have helped drive innovation and commercialisation across various sectors. Our ongoing industry and technology strategies also demonstrate a strong commitment to groundbreaking technologies like quantum computing, AI, and robotics. Investing in people is a key part of Australia's approach to developing skills and fostering innovation. This includes consistent efforts to promote diversity in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM).

A leader in digital government

The Australian Government is an early adopter. In 2022, we ranked 7th among 193 governments in the United Nations E-Government Development Index (EGDI).² The transition to online services enhances the efficiency of official communications, with Australia's myGov being a prime example. This is Australia's centralised portal for health, tax and welfare services. Advanced digital services also make it relatively straightforward to set up a business in Australia. Firstly, an Australian Business Number is needed to operate a business, which can be registered online. Depending on the business type, registration for various taxes may also be needed like the Goods and Services Tax (GST) and Pay As You Go (PAYG). For more details, visit Australia's Business Registration Service

Pioneering the modernisation of global trade

Australia is at the forefront of efforts to adopt modern trade standards, ranking 3rd in the United Nations' Trade Digitalization Index. This reflects Australia's determination to adopt digital solutions that streamline trade processes and automate transactions. And more is coming. Australia is developing its Simplified Trade System (STS), which will help companies comply with trade regulations. STS will simplify procedures, upgrade systems, and making it easier to trade for importers and exporters.

Foreign investment reached A$4.7 trillion

Australia is a standout destination for global investors. Since 2003, the stock of FDI in Australia has risen by an average of 7.1% each year. Other forms of foreign investment – including portfolio investments – have grown by 8% per year. This strong growth has resulted in the value of foreign investment in Australia reaching A$4.7 trillion. Confidence in our economy means Australia has bucked global trends. When FDI in Australia surged by 9% in 2022, the total stock of global FDI dipped by 6%. Over the past two decades, foreign investment has had a growing role in Australia's economy. As a percentage of GDP, the stock of foreign investment has grown from 129% in 2003 to 181% in 2023.

Australia attracts investors from America, Europe and Asia

Investment in Australia arrives from around the world. Since 2013, FDI has risen by 17% per year from Canada, 8% per year from Japan, 7% per year from China and 5% per year from Singapore. The US, the UK and Japan are Australia's leading investors, accounting for 18%, 13% and 12% of the total stock of FDI respectively. Investment from other parts of Asia is also increasing, with ASEAN countries boosting their investments in Australia by 5% per year since 2013. The total FDI stock from ASEAN members has now reached A$61 billion. As a bloc, ASEAN countries are now the 5th-largest source of FDI in Australia, led by Singapore and Malaysia.

An open trading economy for services

Australia is more open to trade in services than most wealthy economies. In 2022, the OECD assessed Australia to be less restrictive in services trade when compared to the average among its 38 member countries. Australia has several standout service sectors with our freight transportation ranked 2nd in openness and air transport ranked 5th-least restrictive. Openness is powering Australia's recovery in two-way trade in services, which grew by 49% in 2022 and by 32% in 2023 to reach A$226 billion.

Did you Sleepwell?^{}

Isn't this a nice thing to ask,
first thing in the morning?
Because we sleep with so much on our minds.
Our loved ones go to bed with anxieties, jitters, or sometimes, just the excitement for the day to come.
So, wouldn't it be nice to know how they slept? It'll show that we care.
So, let's make it a ritual to ask.
Because this one little question can do a lot.
